

NEW! Native Conference Reimbursement Program

In order to support enriching and educational opportunities for Tribal Members, the Tribal Council directed the development of a reimbursement program for Native American conference registration and tuition fees.

All Tribal Members, nineteen-years-old and older or high school graduates are eligible.

Tribal Members may seek up to $250 in reimbursement for tuition/registration fees per calendar year.

This form must be accompanied by receipts and a flyer/announcement/agenda for the event.

Documentation may be submitted in many ways:

The Smith River Rancheria (SRR) will reimburse the cost of Native American Conference tuition/registration fees for each SRR-enrolled Tribal Member participating up to $250.00 per calendar year. (Costs for travel and supplies will not be reimbursed). SRR may send a check to the organization or pay the Tribal Member directly.

SRR-enrolled Tribal Members, nineteen (19) years-old and older or high school graduates qualify for this program.

This form must be submitted with supporting documentation and/or receipts showing the conference name, location, details, etc.

Conference tuition/registration fees funded by other sources (such as TERO or CFS Programs) are not eligible.
